DETAILED ACTION

1. Upon further consideration and examination, the previous election/restriction requirement has been withdrawn, and a requirement is being provided as set forth below.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

3. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-16, and 30, drawn to a representation and/or format of an audio signal.

Group II, claim(s) 17, drawn to a decoding process of an audio signal.

Group III, claim(s) 18-22, drawn to a rendering system not specific to any type of input signal, specifically not an audio signal.

Group IV, claim(s) 23-29, drawn to a multi-channel data carrier for audio signals.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I is drawn to a representation or format of an audio signal; Group II is drawn to a method of decoding; and Group III is drawn to a rendering system for any type of input signal, which relates to how an input (non-specific input) is transformed; Group IV is drawn to a multi-channel data carrier, which is the medium in which the audio signals are transmitted and/or received.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

From Group I, claim1, concepts are based upon the components and directions

Species A: claims 2-3, and 28 are drawn the number of components

Species B: claims 4-10 are drawn to the directions or directional characteristics

From Group II, claim 23, concepts are a multi-channel data carrier for audio channels

Species A: claims 25 and 29 are drawn to the number of channels

Species B: claims 26-27 are drawn to different states of the at least two audio channels.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

From Group I, claim1, concepts are based upon the components and directions -

Species A: claims 2-3, and 28 are drawn the number of components

Species B: claims 4-10 are drawn to the directions or directional characteristics

From Group II, claim 23, concepts are a multi-channel data carrier for audio channels

Species A: claims 25 and 29 are drawn to the number of channels

Species B: claims 26-27 are drawn to different states of the at least two audio channels.

The following claim(s) are generic: none.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I is drawn to a representation or format of an audio signal; Group II is drawn to a method of decoding; and Group III is drawn to a rendering system for any type of input signal, which relates the how an input (non-specific input) is transformed; Group IV is drawn to a multi-channel data carrier, which is the medium in which the audio signals are is transmitted and/or received.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
